Editor of The Times-Dispatch:

Sir,—in making head-lines to an interview I had on yesterday with one of your reporters, you have incorrectly indicated my position in regard to the Barksdaie election bill. I did not say the law is yold, nor is there anything in my published views that would justify such a statement, and I shall thank you to make the correction. My position is that the bill has not as yet gone into effect—not that the law is void.

Permit me to add that I have been in the Legislature for twelve years, and during that time have never had opposition for the nomination or election, except once, when a non-resident Populist announced himself as a candidate for the Senate, just before the election, but he admitted that he had no following, and his candidacy was not taken seriously by any of my constituents.

During my whole legislative career not one cent has been spent by me, nor by any one else, so far as I know, to further my political interests, though I have always contributed, through the properly constituted authorities, to the campaign expenses of the State ticket, as the elec-expenses of the State Licket, as the elec-tion of Governor and other State offi-cers occurred at the same time as my own. My tenure of office covers two more years, and, as I do not expect to be a candidate for re-election, the Barks-dale bill cannot affect me in any way

NO GENERAL CAMPAIGN.
The committee thereupon went into executive session and remained for an hour or thereabout, after which it was announced that the following resolution offered by Mr. E. W. Carpenter, of Rockingham, had been unanimously agreed to:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this committee that this be not a campaign of general speaking, but that the chairman endeavor to arrange for such speak-ers as may be asked for by the local authorities.

Thereupon Judge E. D. Newman, of Shenandoah, offered the following resolution which really proved the basis of the committee's action in the Buckingham, Fluvanna and Goochland and Northampton contests, all of which related to nominations for the Huse. nations for the House,

Resolved, That in cases where partice have submitted their names as candidates for nomination for the General Assembly for nomination for the General Assembly and have permitted themselves to be voted for at primary elections called to make such nominations, such parties will be considered to have waived objection to any informality or want of conformity of said primary as called, to the general primary plan, and objection to action of local committees in awarding certificates of nomination on that ground in such cases will not be entertained by the committee. CONTESTS TAKEN UP.

Thereupon the committee having clear-ed the decks, again went into executive session and took up the contests of nominations for the House of Delegates under the limitations of the Newman resolu-ground alleged by Mr. Taylor for contesting the nomination was his charge

A LIVELY FIGHT.

In the case of William Bullitt Fitzhugh, of Northsmpton, who contested the nomination of Dr. Charles Smith for the House of Delegates, Mr. Fitzhugh appeared before the committee and made a speech of some length. He claimed that his attorney was unable to be present, and thereupon made a statement of his case. In answer to questions, he admitted that he had gone into the primary and made a canvass, despite the fact and made a canvass, despite the fact that he objected to the alleged irregularity of the plan. He charged that Repub-licans had been allowed to vote and that mary plan had been violated. Mr. gh, with energetic iteration, pronounced himself a simon-pure Democrat and rehearsed his jong service to the party personally and in his newspaper, and affirmed his loyalty to the party. en, however, he was asked whether would abide by the action of the com-ttee he would not promise to do so, ereupon the committee, on motion of

But that in cases where the face of the returns nominate a candidate and the local committee refuses the certificate of nomination, the Central Committee will hear evidence and decide the matter as seems just. A motion to pass this resolution by resulted, after division, in a tie vote, it to it, but Chairman Ellyson availed himselt of his prerogative and broke the tie, passing the motion by. Mr. Ellyson explained that he was always in favor of giving every man a hearing, and whether Mr. Patton's resolution was so intended or not, he thought its adoption would have had practically that effect.

The Patton resolution disposed of, Mr. J. C. Parker offered the following, which was adopted:

He did so very clearly and briefly. The basis of the claim of Mr. Garth to the nomination was the contention that Mr. McGee, the nominee, had before the election agreed in the event of his election to name a third candidate his deputy if the said a third candidate his deputy if candidate would retire and leave test one between Messrs, McGee Garth. Mr. Parker's motion to deny the petition of his motion, denying the contention that the promise of Mr. Garth to his third competitor was a farming of the office within the meaning of the law. THE BRAUER CASE.

When the committee reconvened at 4 o'clock the appeal of Mr. William H. Brauer from the decision of the Henrico County Democratic Committee's action refusing the certificate of nomination as treasurer of Henrico county, was read.

Colonel Joseph Button offered this resolution: "Resolved, That the committee proceed to take up this case and review the action of the County Committee in declining to declare Mr. Brauer the nominee." It was adopted.

Judge A. D. Watkins then offered the following: "Resolved, That it is the sense of this committee that it has jurisdiction in the case under consideration."

Before action on the Watkins resolution Mr. H. M. Tyler moved to grant each side fifteen minutes for argument on the question of jurisdiction.

This was adopted, and the doors were opened and Messrs. Wyndham R. Meredith and William H. Sands, counsel for Mr. Brauer; Messrs, D. C. O'Flaherty and Mr. J. Fulton, counsel for Mr. Hechler, and Mr. St. John Coalter, who appeared in the interest of Mr. Todd, were all ushered in.

MATTER OF JURISDICTION.

In the premature and informal discus sion which ensued immediately upon the statement of the line of procedure as for-mulated, the counsel for Mr. Hechler strenuously contended that the State Central Committee had no jurisdiction in the

He read the Henrico legalized primary statute and the plan of primary adopted by the County Democratic Committee, with the rules and regulations by them made for the government of the primary. He contended that the State Committee had no right to entertain an appeal from the County Committee in the Henrico case for the reason that the primary was not held under the party plan, which required viva voce voting, but under a specialy statute made for this county by the General Assembly.

"Your committee in your plan of organi-zation created the County Committee," he said. "but the Legislature clothed the County Committee with authority and power, and the State Committee cannot violate that law without slapping all law in the face."

BRAUER WILL ABIDE ACTION. Mr. Meredith thereupon closed the dis-cussion as to the issue of jurisdiction of the State Committee.

"Mr. Brauer is a Democrat," said Mr. Meredith, "and if the State Central Committee fails to declare him the nominee he does not propose to go to the courts or to contest the matter further, but to abide its action. That is our position. It is a matter of Democratle party policy, nothing more nor less."

The committee then went into executive session to decide this question of jurisdiction.

Mr. Mersdith thersupon took the floor to make the opening statement, the committee having decided to go into the argument and then hear the testimony in the case, if deemed necessary. CONTESTED BY COUNSEL.

At this point Mr. O'Flaherty, of counsel for Mr. Hechler, miorrupted to say that he and his associates wished to confer and may determine not to admit the jurisdiction of the committee in the case.

jurisdiction of the committee in the case.

This put a stop to all proceedings until the conferees returned. On their reappearance they stated that they appeared to contest the jurisdiction of the Sate committee in the case. "We do not know what position the county committee will take," said he. "If that committee accepts this committee declasion as binding, then we will accept it cheerfully. We are here to deny the right of the State committee to award the certificate to Mr. Brauer. We are here in a negative way to contest Mr. Brauer's position, but we do not represent the county committee and do not know what their action will be."

Mr. Parker: "Will Todd or Heeliler run against Brauer if this committee declares him the nominee?

run against Brauer if this committee de-clares him the nominee?

Mr. O'Flaherty: We cannot speak for the gentlement on that point in advance of the county committee's action.

Mr. Patton: Where do the counsel for the appelees stand? If this committee declares Brauer is not the nominee, do they contend that Hechler or Todd would

Mr. Fulton: Charges have been filed against Mr. Hechler, from which he is entitled to exoneration. It's up to the county committee to decide what it will do before our clients answer that question finally. I do not know what they will do; whether they will bow to the State committee's decision or not. If the county committee accepts this committee's decision we do no know yet what we will do.

Mr. Coalter: The State committee would be assuming appellate jurisdiction they do not possess in this case if they declare Mr. Brauer the nominee.

they do not possess in this case if they declare Mr. Brauer the nominee.

ANOTHER NORFOLK COUNTY.

Mr. Parker: I did not think there was but one Norfolk county in the State, but I see I was mistaken. There is another. It is Henrico. You have gotten into a mess there and we are trying to straighten you out and to do what is for the best interests of the party.

Mr. Watkins thus stated the situation: The petition filed here asks for a remedy of an alleged wrong. As to whether Hechler or Todd is entitled to the nomination this committee has nothing whatever to do. We are hearing the Brauer case and nothing else. If you appear here and make charge against Brauer you have made your appearance and accepted the jurisdiction of this committee. When you appear and undertake to take part in this case you are bound by your action and must abide the result. We have nothing to do with the question whether Mr. Hechler or Mr. Todd is entitled to the nomination. We are trying the Brauer case on his appear; nothing more.

After considerable further legal fencing Mr. Patton offered the following, which was adopted unanimously:

"Resolved, That after such investigation as this committee decides to make, it finds that the certificate of nomination should have been awarded to W. H. Brauer, it will in that case declare him the nominee for treasurer of Henrico county.

Messrs. O'Flaherty, Fulton and the other attorneys accepted this, and the argument of the case on its merits was gone linto.

Thereupon Mr! Meredith resumed his ex-parte opening statement of the case for the appellant, in which he was interrupted.

Mr. Meredith rehearsed the action of the County Committee in finding Mr. Brauer guilty on two counts of violating the provisions of the Barksdale law. He revisions of the Barksdale law, and denied that Mr. Brauer had committed any offense. In one case he had merely made a loan to a man who desired funds with which to get to Norfolk, and had done this purely as an Act of charity. As to the charge that he had given $2 with which to buy drinks for votes, the speaker claimed that the testimony showed that he had given this sum for rent of a hall. As to the charge that Mr. Brauer had created those whom he met in a barroom, the speaker declared that he had curteously invited all who were in the bar when he went in to drink with him, and assured them that it made no difference to him whom the beneficiaries of the treat favored for treasurer. This was merely a courtesy.

MATTER OF TREATING.

Mr. O'Flaherty then took the floor to make his opening statement. He relierated the action of the County Committee in the case, charging that it had, after full testimony, sustained the charges of violation of the Barksdale law. He dencunced the action of the County Committee in the case, charging that it had, after full testimony sustained the charge that Mr. Brauer in treating, and claimed that i

Hanged Three Times.

After the shooting the men ran in different directions, with crowds after each one, and each was hit in the head with stones thrown by those pursuing them. Louis Spivey was shot by a citizen. The men were finally lodged in jail. The crowds that had been pursuing the men different directions finally concentrated about the jail and battered down the door and took Joseph Spivey out to lynch him. There possibly never was such an experience of any one in the hands of a moh as his. He was hauled from place to place with a rope about his neck and swung up three different times, and yet escaped with his life. In their haste the mob did not pinlon his arms or his legs, and he managed to use them so as to prevent strangulation the first time he was hing up. The second time he was let down that he might write a farewell letter to his wife and children, and a third time some party cut the rope. Before the mob succeeded in grabbing him and rushing him off to the city prison, where the mob was held at bay for some time, and finally order enough was restored for speeches to be made by ex-Mayor Flanagan. This village, with its three large institions of learning, is noted for its culture and order, but it was the scene over a years ago of the lynching of Henry Corbin, a negro, for the murder of Mrs. Horner, and a striking feature of the attempted lynching last night was the part taken by the negroes, who protested every time the rope was slackened and Spivey was let down. Some of the negroes raised quite a disturbance while proclaiming that if the man had been a negro he would surely have been lynched in the first place, without any one giving heed to his appeals.

A Lively Day in Politics in King George County.

be a candidate for re-election, the Barksdale bill cannot affect me in any way whatever.

Such being my position, I believe I can consider this bill from an impartial standpoint, and am satisfied it will recoli upon the Democratic party with woeful effect. I favor pure elections. If I could do so, I should return to the viva voce method of voting, and hedge all efections about by the strictest safeguards that human ingenuity could devise. But, as this is not practicable, I deplore the fact that the Legislature of Virginia has enacted a law under which perjurers
may thrive and good men may eventually be driven out of politics.

I hold it to be the patriotic duty of every man to influence voters to the extent of his ability—not corruptly or improperly, but intelligently, persuasively, conscientiously, whether the same may be done in person or through the instrumentality of others. The Barksdale bill was intended by its author to be pitched upon a high plane. It sounds well, especially when called a pure elections bill, but the people will is time discover that it is capable of being made the greatest engine of fraud and corruption that has ever afficted this State. Its possibilities for evil are just beginning to crop out, and I invite those who favor its provisions to await its interpretation by an adverse congressional committee, before can be devised for the relief of our people.

But this is rather beside the question. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

FREDERICKSBURG, VA., Oct. 2.—The Democrats of Carolino county, in convention yesterday, at Bowling Green, composed of delegates from each of the pre-incits in the county, nominated the following candidates for the county offices to be voted for in the election November 3, 1903:

Commonwealth's Attorney, W. E. Emis; sheriff, T. B. Gill; treasurer, Captain C. T. Smith; commissioners of the revenue—for the Port Royal District I. R. Broaddus; for Bowling Green, T. C. Chandler; Madison District, Wilson Davis: Reedy Church District, Wilson Davis: Reedy Church District, Wilson Davis: Reedy Church District, S. C. Bowers. Strong resolutions were adopted in favor of pure elections and calling on Democrats to report to the proper authorities any violation of the law. Dr. R. G. Holloway presided over the convention, and Mr. A. B. Chandler will be a candidate in the general election sagainst Mr. Ennis, the nominee, and Mr. R. S. Gravatt, present commissioner of the revenue for Bowling Green District, declined to go of Gree the convention and will oppose Mr. Chandler, the nominee.

Yastorday was a lively day at King George Court. Prominent representatives of both the Democratic and Republican parties were present. Among the former was Congressman John F. Rixey, of Culpeper, who used his influence to induce the Democratic ostetle upon one candidates for each office. The County Democratic or settle upon one candidates for each office. The result was the candidates for each office. The result was the candidates for each office and if all were to run in the general election the Republicans would win out for each office where there were so many candidates. W. Payne, a prominent Republican of the county, has announced himself as a candidate for treasurer sgainst the Democratic nominee. cotermining finally that nothing better can be devised for the relief of our people.

But this is rather beside the question, as the purpose of my writing was to call attention to the fact that I do not hold the opinion indicated by your headlines. The interview was hurried, and afterwards written out by your reporter. In the main he quoted correctly the substance of what I said to him, though there are a few errors which would not have occurred if I had myself prepared the paper.

This matter may not interest the public, but, as some violence has been done to my views in the premises, I shall thank you to publish this card.

Very respectfully,

WM.-B. MILWAINE.
